I know you will be looking for designs to consider if the Pier is voted to be rebuilt. This is a photo of a complex in Overland Park, Kansas called Prairiefire. It is new and the design i have sent is the front of the Museum there. You can find more info on their web site at Prairiefire, Overland Park, KS...the complex is at 135th and Nall. You can also see the activities they have scheduled for the museum...very interesting...maybe something else to consider. The colors are stunning and this photos was taken on a cloudy day!
