ST. PETE SHINES DEVELOPMENT UPDATE 2019

RECOGNIZED BY THE HUFFINGTON POST AS “ONE OF AMERICA’S HOTTEST CITIES TO LIVE AND VISIT,”
St. Pete’s tremendous growth is impossible to overlook. The year 2018 set a record for total construction value in the city - $696 million – with new residential development dominating. The city’s population is comprised of more than 266,000 residents with a median age of 44.8. The median household income is increasing along with the number of residents with advanced education degrees. In 2018, major investment occurred across all areas of the city – from South St. Petersburg and the Skyway Marina District to Gateway and Tyrone – setting St. Petersburg up for a bright future in 2019.

PLANS ADVANCED IN 2018

- South St. Petersburg CRA: The continued growth in property investment within the CRA provided $5,486,780 to the city from TIF revenue in Fiscal Year 2018 and 2019. In 2019, the City will continue to advance business development, workforce development, and housing and commercial revitalization programs.

- Downtown Waterfront Signature Project New St. Petersburg Pier District: Construction began in 2017 on the 26-acre waterfront site of the Pier District and is well underway. Elements of the project include a welcome plaza, marketplace, education center, pier head, family park with splash pad and playground, and a variety of dining options.
ST. PETERSBURG INNOVATION DISTRICT

Tropicana Field Redevelopment Concept: The City of St. Petersburg and HKS Architects developed a conceptual master plan for the redevelopment of the 85-acre Tropicana Field Site. The plan was further refined to include two scenarios: one featuring a new ballpark and one excluding the ballpark. The plan includes a research facility and tech campus, entertainment options, housing opportunities, along with retail, office, hotel and conference space.

Innovation District: Immediately south of downtown, the Innovation District is a cluster of higher education, marine science, healthcare, business incubation, and media institutions. The City has been working with the Board of the St. Pete Innovation District to expand the growth and development of the area. Design of Phase 1 improvements from the Streetscape & Connectivity Plan is underway, with construction expected to begin by 2020.

Warehouse Arts District and Deuces Live Joint Action Plan: The Warehouse Arts District and the 22nd Street Deuces Live Corridor is an emerging area and one of the most culturally vibrant, historically significant areas in the city. A joint action plan for the District was completed in 2018. The plan identifies a series of prioritized projects regarding streetscape, open space, branding, wayfinding, and programing for events and public improvement investments. Design of first phase of improvements will begin in 2019 with construction anticipated to begin in 2020.

Bicycle and Pedestrian Improvement Projects: The City of St. Petersburg and Pinellas County prioritize local recreational infrastructure, with the goal of making St. Pete one of the most pedestrian and bike friendly cities in the nation. Bicycle lanes, recreational trails, sidewalks, and routes for non-motorized vehicles connect St. Pete's neighborhoods – now totaling 120 miles.

The Coast Bike Share program started in 2016 and now has more than 154,000 miles ridden in St. Pete through 2018.

St. Petersburg Bicycle Co-op was recently recognized by the League of American Bicyclists as a Platinum Level Bicycle Friendly certification for investments in bicycling education, promotion, infrastructure improvements and pro-bicycling policies – a ranking only one other Florida city has achieved.
